CAREFULLY READ THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION BEFORE FILLING OUT THIS FORM

1. EVERYONE desiring to obtain accommodations through the convention rooming arrangement should fill in PLAINLY all required information on the above Room Request Form and mail it IMMEDIATELY to WATCHTOWER CONVENTION (for city and address see other side) four to six weeks prior to the date of the convention where you will attend. Please do not wait until you arrive in the convention city to make request for your room.

2. ONE ROOM REQUEST FORM should be filled out for each room. Only the names of the persons who will occupy the ONE ROOM should appear on the form. Please have this point in mind; otherwise, if the group is too large for one room, the Rooming department will have to divide the group and assign persons to different rooms as it deems necessary.

3. Prices of rooms vary. Please state the amount you desire to pay individually, inserting this figure in the right-hand column of the chart above.

4. Specify your mode of travel, as room assignments will be made accordingly.

ROOMS IN PRIVATE HOMES: Most accommodations are obtained in homes where the householder has only one spare room that will accommodate two persons. Therefore, wherever possible for persons to room together, this should be done, as it will conserve accommodations. Since it is difficult to find accommodations for large groups at one place, it will be to your advantage to arrange yourselves in small groups. If you are alone and willing to share a room with another witness, PLEASE designate it in the space provided on the form, as there are never enough single accommodations for all.

In checking the date on which you plan to reach the convention city, be sure you arrange to arrive on that day, as reservations are made according to your request. Upon arrival go to your room assignment as quickly as possible. If, for some unavoidable reason, you will be unable to arrive as scheduled, notify the householder by telegram or mail when you will arrive, as she is expecting you on that date.

Please accept the room assignment that is given you, because the householder has been notified you are coming on the date you give above. Your conduct in dealing with the householder and while residing in her home should create a favorable impression and provide occasion to give a good witness to Jehovah's name and Word. (Many convention householders are now publishers.)

If you arrive in the convention city between the hours of eleven at night and eight in the morning, please do not try to contact your householder then, but wait until a reasonable hour, unless you have previously advised the householder of the unusual arrival time. It is advisable to arrange for a daylight arrival, so rooming accommodations, etc., can be located easily.

HOTEL ROOMS: The Rooming department always contacts hotels and lists a large number of accommodations for the Society to use during conventions. When rooms are allotted in quantity, it is advantageous to the publisher to write to the convention for hotel accommodations because of the special arrangement. A saving can usually be effected. If hotel rooms are preferred, mark your Request form accordingly and show the price per person you wish to pay in the right-hand column for each person. As you know, the Convention department will do everything they possibly can for your request. Bear in mind that good rooms with private bath will generally range from $12.00 to $18.00 for singles, while the per person rate will be $7.00 to $14.00 for a room with a double bed, and $8.00 to $16.00 per person for twin beds. (There are VERY FEW ROOMS at the minimum rate shown on the form above.) Two- and three-room suites may also be available, which will accommodate two and three persons. Rates on these are generally from $10.00 to $16.00 per person. An extra cot can be furnished in the parlors for an additional person for $3.00 or $4.00. Frequently a cot can be furnished for a third person in a double or twin-bed room. If this type of accommodation is desired, mark your room request slip accordingly.

Most hotels have a deadline after which they will not hold reservations on the intended arrival date. This is generally about 6 p.m. If you cannot get to the hotel by that time, you should contact the hotel direct by mail, wire or telephone. If you have requested a hotel room but receive an assignment in a private home, it will be because there was no hotel room available at the price you designated you could pay.

MOTELS: In many of the convention cities this year motel accommodations will be available. These are generally slightly cheaper than hotel rooms, although many are just as expensive. The Rooming department at the convention city will be contacting the motels who will list accommodations with the Society for assigning to those attending the convention. Similar to the situation under hotel rooms, it is to the publisher's advantage to secure them through the convention, as it frequently will effect a saving. It should be borne in mind that motels are usually located on the outskirts of the city, probably farther from the convention site, and that automobile transportation is essential. Insofar as possible, these accommodations will be provided to take care of your requests. If more are desired than are available, then other accommodations will be substituted, probably private homes.

TRAILERS AND TENTS: There will be no trailer camp, but the Convention will gladly furnish available information on commercial or other trailer parking facilities if there are such places available.

Address mail to: WATCHTOWER CONVENTION, in the city you will attend. (See addresses below.)
