Re: Introduction to _____ and _____

We are forwarding the publisher cards for _____ and _____ as they are transferring to your congregation. We do not feel the need to introduce you to them as you already are quite familiar with both of them.

Both _____ and _____ come to you in good standing in the congregation. They have expressed a desire to help where there is more of a need and we support them in their plan. While we will miss them dearly, we feel that they will be blessed for their efforts.

The _____ have been in our congregation for about nine years now. They came to our congregation from the _____ area to help here and truly they have accomplished that. _____ has been serving as our Service Overseer for a handful of years. You will no doubt benefit from brother _____ abilities as he is not only gifted in his ability as an organizer but also in that he cares deeply about individuals in the congregation. This is reflected in his tireless efforts to help any in need. There is no doubt that we recommend that brother _____ continue to serve as an elder in your congregation.

Also _____ is a loving and kind sister who also extends herself to encourage and help others. Sister _____ herself suffers severely from her advancing MS. She never lets on to her own needs and seems to mask them well. As any of us however, she will appreciate any personal encouragement.

We are confident that the _____ and _____ will thrive in your congregation. We wish them Jehovah's continued blessings.

With our Christian Love
