Re: Special magazine day in October 2013

Dear Brothers:

We write concerning plans for a special magazine day during the month of October.

We would like Saturday October 12, 2013, to be a full day of activity for the congregation, focusing particularly on using the October issues of the Watchtower and Awake! We believe these issues are excellent for the Britain and Ireland field and would like to see them have the widest possible distribution.

Therefore, may we please ask that the service committee coordinate arrangements for meetings for field service at various times throughout the day. For these meetings we suggest assigning brothers, preferably pioneers, who will demonstrate practical, brief, interest arousing, and easy-to-follow presentations. Arrangements can be made for house-to-house work, street work, reaching not-at-homes as well as various forms of public witnessing. Please ensure plenty of extra copies of these issues are on hand, requesting more if you have not already done so, for the widest possible distribution. May it be our heartfelt desire to 'fill' the territory with the good news about Christ and his Kingdom.—Acts 5:28.

We pray for Jehovah's rich blessing on your diligent preparations for this exciting and special day of service. Be assured of our warmest Christian love and best wishes.

Your brothers,

Christian Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses

PS: In order to build anticipation for this special magazine day, please could you announce it to your congregation during the Service Meeting, week commencing September 2, when considering the part entitled "Ideas for Offering the Magazines in September." Then during the week of October 7, remind the congregation that the coming Saturday will be a special magazine day.
