Re: Electronic Version of Notification of Disfellowshipping or Disassociation (S-77)
Form

Dear Brothers:

Since November 1, 2013, most congregations having accounts on jw.org are corresponding with the branch office using the jw.org Inbox feature. With this feature, the speed of communication between the branch office and the congregations has greatly improved. To help us serve you better, kindly take note of the following information.

Whenever possible, a judicial committee sending a report on disfellowshipping or disassociation should use the electronic version of the S-77 form. Our letter dated September 1, 2013, stated: “We are pleased to inform you that the Inbox feature can now be used to send correspondence and forms, including judicial reports, securely to the branch office and to circulate correspondence securely among the elders and ministerial servants in your congregation. Beginning November 1, 2013, whenever possible, correspondence and forms should be sent to the branch office using jw.org rather than postal mail.”

We continue to receive paper copies of S-77 forms from congregations having a jw.org account. Sending paper copies to the office slows down the processing of these forms. Therefore, we encourage all congregations with a jw.org account to use the electronic version of the S-77 form when reporting disfellowshippings and disassociations. The form can be downloaded in the “Forms” section of the “Documents” tab on jw.org. Your cooperation in this matter is deeply appreciated.

Be assured our warm Christian love.

Your brothers,

Christian Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses
